

Join the UMC.org Community

Last month, The United Methodist Church launched the new UMC.org Community, the first large-scale social networking site developed by a mainline denomination. The difference at UMC.org community is the commitment to online safety and mutual respect.

United Methodist Communications wants you to be among the first to join this new faith experience. It's simple: just visit www.UMC.org and click on "Connect" to sign up today.

Establish Your Own Profile Page

Similar to MySpace, Facebook, and other online social networks, the UMC.org Community allows you to establish a profile page with photographs, facts about yourself, and even a personal blog.

Build a Network of Friends

You can network your profile to other members', and post comments on each other's pages. You can make friends with members of your own congregation, members of The United Methodist Church, and other people of faith from around the world.

Participate in Online Discussions

Through UMC.org Community, you can participate in open, thoughtful discussions about topics such as health and wholeness, youth and young adults' ministry, Christian education, mission and volunteering, evangelism and prayer.
